The peculiar taint or infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation; indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." [illegible] according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. [illegible] purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and [illegible] leave you. With [illegible] blood, you [illegible]

GEN. SICKLES ON GRANT.

A Soldier's Tribute to a Soldier.

"GRANT'S OPINIONS KNOWN TO OFFICERS WHO HAVE SERVED UNDER HIM."

We have already alluded to the great Grant meeting recently held in New York City. The principal speech of the occasion was made by Gen Sickles, who spoke as follows

FELLOW CITIZENS. The events of the Revolutionary War, as has been truly said to you tonight, developed the character and brought forward the illustrious statesman whose destiny it was to establish and administer, for the first eight years of our national existence, the affairs of our infant Republic. He was commended to the American people, not by party platforms, not by political indorsement, but by his principles and his character, and his deeds in the service of the nation. And now, after long years of civil conflict, we have seen that the events of the late war not only brought forward the soldier who should successfully lead our armies to victory, but the heart of the nation feels that in the same soldier we have the first citizen of the Republic best fitted to lead us to a happy destiny in times of peace [Applause.]

There are those who complain and object that he is a silent man—that he has not announced to the country his platform, and that no responsible politicians come forward as his vouchers to the people. But the people see, and feel, and know that Gen Grant has a platform good enough for them in history and in his acts. [Applause.] But we are not left to any mere inference as to General Grant's opinions on public affairs. On all proper occasions—when a military officer as he has been and now is, and as an executive officer, as he also now is in part—on all occasions when it has been proper for him as a soldier or as a civilian, to communicate his opinions to his superior officers or to the public, he has done so with all the frankness of a soldier, with all the candor of a man, and with all the wisdom of a statesman [Applause.] Go back with me for proof of this to the close of the war, immediately after Lee and the rebel army had surrendered to Grant's victorious banner Gen Grant was sent by His Excellency, the President, to the Southern States upon a tour of observation. He performed that task, and communicated in his report to the President a view of the situation in the rebel States, and a series of suggestions with reference to the line of policy to be pursued toward them, which I affirm all our subsequent experience has proved to have been wise—as I claim they were in their conception—a statesmanlike at the outset frankly spoken and courageously maintained. [Applause.] But unfortunately, gentlemen, the Executive line of policy that was subsequently pursued made it impossible to carry out the wise and statesmanlike recommendations of the General-in-Chief. Unhappily for the country the Executive policy pointed irresistibly and inevitably to a collision with the rights of the people. [Applause.] I need not say to you or to any American citizen—for all have that practical common sense which gives them a better insight into public affairs than some of the profoundest professors of State craft can exercise—I need not say to you that it was utterly impossible to bring to a solution the difficult problems which this war brought upon us when the great 3 party [illegible] of the Government—Executive, Legislative and Judicial—were at war with each other. From such a conflict peace to the land was impossible. The plan of settlement that was initiated, known as the President's policy, was simply this—to restore what remained of the rebels in the rebel States to power [Applause.] That was justly deemed by the people who put down the rebellion a criminal waste of the sacrifices of the war. Gen Grant dissented from that policy. [Loud cheers.] While Gen. Grant, in common with the great mass of the army who followed him, dismissed all asperities and hatreds, and calmed all passions, when the rebel army surrendered, while they were willing to second him in offering honorable terms to a brave foe, they were not willing, and, if I know them, never will be willing, to abandon the loyal whites, or any loyal people in the South, to the mercies of the men who inaugurated the rebellion. [Great cheers.] And in this matter Gen. Grant's opinions are just as well known to any officer who has served under him, and has listened to his instructions, and has had the opportunity of executing his orders, as are the views of any platform-maker in the United States. [Cheers.] To proceed, Congress fresh from the people, elected by the free, unrestrained ballots of the loyal States, claimed to have as they rightly had by the Constitution of our fathers, the right to prescribe the terms on which the rebel States which had renounced their allegiance should be again recognized in their seats in the Senate and House, and the terms on which they should be permitted to participate in the affairs of the Republic. Congress, I say, after mature deliberation, embodied their judgment in what is known as the Constitutional Amendment, originally introduced by Senator Howard. That proposition of peace and amity and settlement was tendered to the South by the voice of two thirds of the Representatives of the people. It was ratified by three fourths of the loyal States that put down the rebellion. It was rejected by the South, and they rue it now and repent it. But so it was, it was rejected. It was denounced by the Executive and his Cabinet; but it was sustained, recommended and indorsed by Grant. [Loud cheering.]

What next? Congress, bound by public opinion, bound by a sense of duty, was driven to one of three alternatives. Either to yield to the Southern demand that the rebel States should be entirely relinquished to the unrestricted control of those who not only seceded, but those who originated and led the rebellion, or, secondly, that they must have the Southern States that had been the theatre of war indefinitely under military government. The third alternative was, that Congress itself should assume the responsibility, and take the initiative of passing an enabling act, by which society and government could be again organized in those States where the rebellion had produced anarchy, and thus give to the people there the means of protecting themselves, and giving to the loyal States of the Union a perpetual guarantee for the allegiance and loyalty of the rebel States. [Applause.] You have seen under what embarrassments and difficulties, resulting from many sources, the plan of reconstruction has been conducted, but you have seen this, also, that while it has encountered the almost irresistible power, patronage and influence of the Executive, it has never for a moment lacked the steady, loyal, faithful support of the General in Chief of the armies. [Cheers.] Passing any reference to myself, except to take this occasion to express my appreciation and gratitude for the support so steadily given me while in command of the Carolinas, amid all the trying difficulties of that position, let me, for illustration of what I have just said, point you to the manly, soldierlike, true friendship and devotion to duty manifested in the struggle made by the gallant Sheridan. [Loud cheering and waving of handkerchiefs.] There was Sheridan sent to New Orleans with a handful of men to control all the turbulent elements of Louisiana and Texas, to restore order out of anarchy, to bring an unwilling people to a sense of allegiance to our flag and Constitution and laws, to extend the hand of protection to the helpless negro, whom we had emancipated and whom we had called a freedman, but to whom we had given no means to protect his freedom or his franchise, obliged to shelter from persecution and tyranny and outrage the loyal whites, compelled to afford security to Northern capitalists who had gone down there in the confidence that an American citizen presumes he may always feel that wherever he goes, at least within our territory, the hand of power, whether civil or military, will always be exerted and held over him to protect him from outrage. Sheridan went down to perform this difficult, delicate and responsible task. He was arraigned and dismissed—for what? Simply for executing the laws of the land passed by the Congress of the United States, the representatives of the people. [Applause.] Did Grant stand upon any mere question of military etiquette? Not content with personal remonstrances, not content with official appeal, he sat down instantly at his desk and penned, in words that will not die, in language doing equal honor to his intellect as the sentiments of his heart—he penned that glorious remonstrance to the Executive, appealing to him to do justice to the sense of duty and well meant efforts of a faithful soldier, who had done the State some service, and to forbear, at least in that case, from striking down an officer for obeying and executing the laws of the land. [Cheers.] And here, my friends, you see in this narrative, which I do not intend to make tedious to you, that I point out to you in every instance where his sense of duty would permit that the General-in-Chief of the army has been as frankly outspoken and unreserved as it was possible or [illegible] or becoming for an officer in his position to be. [Cheers.] No man is in doubt as to the sentiments of General Grant upon the great questions now before the country unless the man wants to be. [Applause.] An ignorance upon a matter so plain and so easily ascertained and understood would, I think, exclude any such man from the exercise of the ballot, if we had an educational qualification [Laughter.] To [illegible]. The next time General Grant was called to a civil station he was appointed Secretary of War ad interim. And here, it seems to me, he has furnished an answer to those who had such great anxiety that his merely military education had not given him the [illegible] experience and qualifications for civil office. You will find many well meaning gentlemen who have the gravest doubts whether General Grant would make a good business man. Well, I think he showed a pretty good capacity for business when he was dealing with Gen. Lee. [Laughter.] I think you may search in vain from one end of the land to the other to find a man who [illegible] worked more hours in the day, or who gave closer attention to what he was at when he was fighting it out on that line, if it took all summer. [Cheers.] But we are not left to his military history to ascertain his capacity for his business, or his ability to handle the problems with which statesmen have to deal. Whom did he succeed in the War Department? The most illustrious War Minister of modern times. [Loud cheers.] And with such a predecessor he has made a reputation in the War Office. He has introduced reforms which [illegible] even the scrutiny of Stanton. Although the army has been reduced with a rapidity and a success that amazed Europe, and it is said almost impossible and impracticable to our own people, yet General Grant, faithful in that obedience to the will of the people and the instincts of the people which indicate him so truly as a great popular leader, responded at once to the popular demand for reduction in expenditure, for economy, in order that we might return to that happy epoch when we can resume specie payments, and pay every public creditor dollar for dollar in honest gold and silver. [Cheers.] General Grant, fellow citizens, it may be, does not owe his fame or his opportunity to perform the great service he has rendered the country to any of those qualities, or to any perhaps, which make up a skillful professor of State craft. Nobody pretends that Grant is a Bismarck, or a [illegible], or a Count Cavour, or a [illegible]. [Laughter.] There is no probability at all that if he was Secretary of State his despatches would fill an ordinary school district library, and [illegible] danger at all, I think I may safely [illegible] you, that he would deluge Congress with long [illegible] on the Constitution of the United States, equal in length and volume to the [illegible] of Geo Ticknor Curtis. He possesses that intuitive common sense that the American [illegible] to see manifested and exercised in public affairs. We have not, although we have [illegible] questions devolving upon us [illegible] relations with foreign powers, the [illegible] of still maintaining vast [illegible] dynastic questions, the [illegible] goes to make up a European [illegible], or a diplomatist, or a prime minister. We have our difficulties, to be sure, and we do require first-rate capacity in public office. Let me not for a moment depart from the standard of capacity and character required to lead this people safely and honorably to its high destiny. Not for an instant. But I say what our people [illegible] above all should be set for, is straightforward dealing with the [illegible], a conciliatory [illegible] and tone toward the co-ordinate branches of the Government, and a [illegible] recognition of what is due to the people through their representatives in Congress, and a willingness on the part of [illegible] in high executive stations to yield their peculiar views of policy, and of personal prerogative, to the demands of the people as expressed through their representatives. [Applause.] And this I claim, that General Grant, in all his views upon public affairs, in every attitude he has assumed since the surrender to our armies, this, I affirm, he has faithfully done.

But it is impossible to review the political situation with which you and I have to deal as citizens without some reference to men and events. What does the Democratic party propose to do? Nothing, that I can see, except to fill the offices. [Laughter and [illegible].] I have not seen their plan of reconstruction, unless they adopt the Executive plan, which I have already, as I believe, truly described to be simply and solely the restoration of rebels to power just where they were when they began the war. That is [illegible], if I know the American people. [Cheers.] The Democrats are committed [illegible], so far as I can see by [illegible] most [illegible] of their distinguished men to [illegible], to use a lawyer's phrase, to the status quo ante bellum. They would ignore the war. They would say with the Executive in his [illegible] Message, "These [illegible] States are to-day in the Union [illegible] have always been, and nothing they have done has deprived them of a single right." Well, if that is true, I don't want to stay in the Union for one. [Laughter.] What is [illegible] by the Executive—for I really am [illegible] to indicate what party His Excellency belongs to; I, therefore speak of him sui generis, but with profound respect. [Laughter.] Will he propose to Congress, as far as I can see, [illegible] of the Constitution [laughter], and the [illegible] of the session in careful meditation of it? [Loud laughter.] I wish to do no injustice to his Excellency's platform. It is sound, but how far it will lead us to peace and tranquility with [illegible] practical measures which will solve our problems, I do not see. But very likely if Attorney General Stanbery were called upon for an opinion it would be entirely clear. It is equally true, I think, that the American people do not desire extra measures to delay or impede the just and proper settlement of our relations with the rebel States. It is equally true that they desire to be relieved as soon as possible of the burden of an imperfect and improvised financial system forced upon us by the exigencies of the war. There is no doubt we shall have more equal, uniform and easy modes of collecting the public revenue, and a more reasonable rate of interest for our public debt. I trust you will allow me to affirm as my opinion and belief, and to express it as my hope that that noble act of justice by which the Congress of the United States gave to all the South who were loyal to our flag the right of suffrage will be [illegible] and held by the American people as sacred and as irreversible as the proclamation of emancipation. [Applause.] You can not make a man free to-day and make him a slave to-morrow. You cannot give a freeman the sign and badge of manhood by putting the ballot in his hands and take it away to-morrow and make him the slave of some other man who holds that ballot. [Cheers.] And never, never can you, without outraging justice, and without planting within your heart an inextinguishable fire of [illegible] and revolt, take away the ballot from the black man and give it to the rebel. [Great cheering. "Three cheers for that sentiment."] But when security is restored you can grant a general amnesty to all who have fought against our flag, and from that general amnesty I, for one, would only except those whose signal crimes against the Constitution and the laws of the land have marked them as fit examples for human justice. You do not expect any one on this platform to rehearse to you the military exploits of General Grant.

There is no soldier who doubts that when his illustrious chief assumes the direction of civil affairs justice will be done him. Now when these brave men ask for employment in Government service, the illustrious politician answers them, "I wish I could do something for you, but I have got to make some seven or eight appointments of politicians down in the Eighth Ward before I can do it." [Laughter.] I would like to see a list of soldiers who were stone-masons who are now employed on the new City Hall in the park. [Laughter.] Millions of money have been wasted by going into the pockets of worthless politicians on that monument of folly and villainy. [Applause.]

I also understand, from very good authority—for a good many of them have told me so—that the Common Council of this city are, with great unanimity opposed to the extension of suffrage to the blacks in the South. I am told such is the general opinion of those who vote for them. I understand that they are of the opinion that if negroes are admitted to a voice in public affairs there will be more or less dishonesty [Laughter.] They fully believe that [illegible]. Now, if that vice of stealing is [illegible] exclusively, I ask you what must be the [illegible] of our Common Council and of the men [illegible] their late office. But, to [illegible], in [illegible] ing, as I do, General Grant [illegible] and affection, I do so, not [illegible] mer in politics, not that he is [illegible] conceal his opinions, not that he [illegible] would put on the [illegible] of [illegible] your sweet voices [illegible], like [illegible] he would say

Than crave the hire [illegible]
[illegible]
Let the high office and the [illegible]

No, he is [illegible] listing, he is the [illegible] loyal millions who put [illegible] they loved the Union, and [illegible] because they pray for [illegible]

There are very people who would like to see this question answered.

The Democrats talk strongly of making Gen. Hancock their candidate for the Presidency. Is he a [illegible] man? Will not some of the Democratic papers which [illegible] so sneeringly asked this question about [illegible] answer for General [illegible]?

A [illegible] School of Mines.

A bill was recently introduced in the Senate of the United States by Stewart, of Nevada, to establish a "National School of Mines." By favor of Senator Williams, we have received a copy of the bill. It provides that the tax levied and collected upon gold and silver bullion shall be set apart as a special fund for the endowment and support of the school, the location of which shall be on the line of the Pacific railroad, west of the Rocky mountains, as near as possible to the centre of the mining States and Territories. A Board of Directors are to constitute the executive department of the school. Each State and Territory west of the Rocky mountains may appoint one member of the Board; but in case of their failure to do so, the President has the power of appointment. Rules and regulations for the government of the school are to be made by the Directors, who also are to have the power to appoint professors, teachers and officers, and to control the fund appropriated for the school. Tuition in the institution is to be free to any citizen of the United States who proves proper qualifications for admission; but all other expenses are to be born by the students themselves. It is to be made the duty of the faculty of the institution to collect mining statistics, and transmit a report thereof to the Secretary of Treasury, which duty shall supersede that now performed by a Special Commissioner of the Treasury Department. The professors and teachers, accompanied by the classes, are to make annual visits to the principal mining districts, and instruction is to be given in the practical operations of mining. These are the principal features of the scheme, as gathered from the bill before us. Concerning its practicability, and probable advantages, the San Francisco Bulletin has the following:

The grand idea evidently is to establish a school somewhat after the plan of the famous Mining College at Friburg, which shall be to the mining interest what West Point is to the military service—furnishing it annually a corps of experts to direct operations conformably to the most efficient and economical methods. There can be no question that a National School of Mines, properly organized, conducted by the best ability and kept free from partisan influences, would be productive of very beneficial results. Germany, Prussia, Austria, France, Great Britain, Spain and Mexico have their mining colleges and derive great advantage therefrom; yet none of these countries contain the variety and extent of minerals, or more than a fraction of the quantity of gold, silver, copper and iron, found in the United States. We who are more interested than any of them in the business of mining, and who produce $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 in gold and silver alone per annum, are compelled to rely upon the graduates of their colleges for experts to oversee the workings of our best managed mines. An American School of Mines on the plan proposed would not only supply a native corps of experts, it would also be a popular bureau of general information and guidance in all points of practical mineralogy. Its graduates in charge of mines would have access to it for assistance in any case of peculiar difficulty relative to the treatment or management of ores. Its reports, embracing the facts gathered by a regularly organized corps of geologists, mining engineers, metallurgists and statisticians, would embrace all the newest facts and suggestions bearing on the subjects in hand. Congress might authorize the Faculty to embody in the report diagrams of the principal mines, geological charts and cuts representing the machinery used in mining and milling and the various methods of handling, crushing and amalgamating. These illustrations might be executed during the preparation of the text of the report—perhaps by an engraver and lithographer connected with the school, and the whole report be ready for the print at one time, so that it would go to the country immediately on the meeting of Congress, and thus be of the utmost utility to the mining communities.

The best place to learn to do a thing in the best way is where it is practically done. Theoretical schooling is necessary at the beginning; but no school can teach how to cut a tunnel, or to follow the dips and spurs of a lode, or to crush and amalgamate and separate ores, by methods so good as actual tunnels, lodes, mills and processes, in connection with charts, diagrams, books and scientific apparatus. Object teaching is the great modern idea of collegiate tuition, and should be followed in a mining school above all others. Hence a National Mining School should be where the greatest variety of permanent lodes exist, and where the most numerous systems of mining and milling prevail.

NEW PAPER. We have received the first number of the Daily Democratic Tocsin, a campaign paper published at Salem. As its name indicates, it is intensely Democratic. Jernegan & Co. are newspaper publishers; but its editorial management is what Beriah would call "irresponsible," as no one is named as its editor. This may be the reason why Beriah has not condescended to notice it. The Tocsin is a sixteen column sheet, and is about up to the average standard of Democratic journalism in Oregon. In the leading article it is profoundly remarked that "all human history teaches us that the liberties of a people once lost, are lost forever, or recovered only through blood and battle;" a saying which is just about as fresh and forcible as Beriah's "O! for a tongue to curse the slave,"—"Fools rush in where angels fear to tread," etc., etc. These trite and hackneyed sayings are continually reproduced in Democratic papers as proofs of the extensive literary culture and uncommon wisdom of their editors; and, perhaps, it is as well for the Tocsin to commence this style at once. Its promise is put to furnish "editorials written by the best talent on the coast," and we congratulate the "Democracy" that they have such early proof of its ability. We cannot omit to take notice of another promising feature of the paper which has come out with such great pretensions, viz: Its manifest ability to crush a political opponent by profound Democratic "argument," like the following: "Lachrymose Jeremiah might do fairly upon the stump, if he were not an unmitigated liar at heart, and too corrupt to allow people to respect him." Thus endeth the first lesson from the paper which has undertaken the task of revolutionizing public sentiment in Marion county, and proposes to make a mere trifle of the job.

THE WEST INDIAN PURCHASE.—A late Danish paper says of the treaty between that Government and ours for the islands, that the substance of the sale and the contract concluded, is the sale of all their islands for eleven and three-quarter millions of dollars. France, however, having a right of pre-emption to St. Croix, the sale of that island is dependent on said right not being enforced. The contract, therefore, is preliminary, and only valid as to the islands of St. Thomas and St. John, for which the purchase money is seven million five hundred thousand dollars in Danish coin of the realm. An expression of the consent of the population is required.

SHAVING STATE WARRANTS.—On this subject the Record, of Friday, has the following:

"Raleigh" charges in the Herald that warrants on the State Treasury are shaved in the Treasurer's office, which induces us to recollect that in Territorial times a great deal of shaving of warrants was accomplished, and to great profit. We learn that the business is not now so profitable, from the mere fact that the State credit is so good that men of capital stand ready to cash interest-bearing warrants at a very trifling figure. For instance, some time since a holder of a State warrant, drawing interest, was bartering with A. B., a Democrat, to sell it at ten per cent. discount, when a Republican took it off him at almost its face. This has been the constant practice, and of course our Democratic friends find their profits diminished thereby, though we learn that a warrant for a large amount was lately drawn on a fund for which no appropriation was made; Democratic speculators nipped it at five per cent. discount, and were sharp enough to turn it in at full price as available means to a County Treasurer who was about to make the State a payment. The State Treasurer did not receive it, of course, and the County Treasurer retains it as a souvenir of the nice commission cleared by his Democratic friend.

Indiana reduced her debt by over a million and a quarter dollars during the year ending with October, and paid $200,000 of interest on the remainder.

Progress of Reconstruction.

[From the Chicago Tribune, Dec. 19th.]

The Republican party in Congress has unanimously declared that the general results of the Congressional plan of reconstruction are satisfactory, but there are probably many of our readers who have no adequate conception of the progress of the reorganization of the Southern States. Removed as they are from the scene of political action, and dependent upon the reports of enemies as well as friends, possibly very many at the North are better informed of the movements of Garibaldi and of the Fenians than of the debates of the Alabama Convention or the result of registration in Texas. The general position is as follows: Under the Reconstruction act, one State, Alabama, has framed a constitution which will soon be ratified or rejected by the popular vote. In three States, Georgia, Virginia and Louisiana, Constitutional Conventions are now in session. In the Carolinas, Florida, Mississippi and Arkansas the people have voted to hold conventions, and in the tenth State, Texas, registration has been completed. The proceedings of the only convention that has concluded its work has disappointed the enemies of reconstruction, and failed to realize their unfriendly predictions. There has been no confiscation, no disfranchisement, no political or social elevation of the negro over the white man. The former slave has not oppressed his former master. Although sixteen legislators who had formerly been slaves were assembled in the very hall where six years before, a resolution was passed to establish a new government whose corner stone should be slavery, to assist in framing a new constitution, there was no vindictive nor proscriptive legislation. There has been no anarchical inversion of the social order, nor anything done to cause a war of races. In language which, for dignity and statesmanlike character, favorably compares with assemblies where there are no colored men represented, this convention declared in favor of loyalty and equal rights, and denounced white or black supremacy. As for the constitution of Alabama itself, although there may be a legitimate difference of opinion in regard to some of its provisions—and of what existing State constitution may this not be said?—it is a constitution under which any friend of liberty would be willing to live. There is every reason to believe that this constitution will be ratified, and that Alabama will soon follow the example of Tennessee, and resume her place in the Congress of the United States. An oversight or defect in the Reconstruction act, which requires that a majority of the voters registered, instead of a majority of the votes actually cast, as is the general policy of the country, has been taken advantage of in nearly all of the States, to defeat the convention; but, while the opposition of inaction will not accomplish the intended result, there is reason to believe that Congress will counteract this evil by suitable legislation. In the three conventions that are now in session the general sentiment of the members and the spirit of legislation is conciliatory while it is just. Extremists on either side have been discountenanced. Indeed there is very much less to fear from the blacks than from rebel whites. So far as the establishment of good governments and the reorganization of the South on a basis of loyalty and justice are concerned there is every reason to hope for a speedy and complete success.

A Hydraulic Propeller.

[From the Boston Journal.]

In one of Admiral Farragut's letters, describing his visit to England, is an account of the Ruthven hydraulic propeller, which has been applied to an English iron-clad of 700 tons, the Water Witch. This "propeller," as it is termed, is very different from the invention generally known by that name. Water rises from below into a box, whence a rotary pump, worked by steam, throws it with great violence into two square boxes placed on the outside of the vessel, one in each side nearly amidships, and about the water line. These boxes are square tubes, ten or twelve feet long, and twelve inches in diameter, open at both ends. Near the centre is a valve, under the control of the officer of the deck, and as he turns it, the water is thrown with great force, either forward or aft, thus propelling the vessel ahead or astern at his will. The Admiral took a trip in the Water Witch, and was surprised to find that she sailed at a speed of seven or eight miles per hour against a fresh breeze and quite a sea, and under more favorable circumstances made nine knots. There was no interruption of the machinery, and the movements of the vessel were wholly controlled by the officer of the deck, who, by manœuvering the valves spoken of, can go ahead, back astern, or turn the vessel on her centre. The Admiral says that on her return she was kept at a speed of nine knots till within fifty or sixty yards of the wharf, when she was suddenly checked and brought to the wharf with infinitely more ease than any steamer he ever saw.

GOING! GOING! GONE!—Such were the words that the graceful and admiring skaters uttered as they saw the ice gradually spoil and made unfit for their sport. While the ice is going KOHN & FISHEL still remain, and are already preparing to receive a large invoice of Fine and Fashionable Clothing for the Spring trade, and shall hereafter, as heretofore, be the leaders of fashion, have the best goods, and sell them at the lowest price.

NEW TO-DAY.

525 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Running West from Omaha

ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

ARE NOW COMPLETED.

THIS BRINGS THE LINE TO THE EASTERN BASE of the Rocky Mountains, and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles further, to Evans Pass, the highest point on the road, by January. The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to the summit is but eighty feet to the mile, while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred. Work in the rock-cuttings on the western slope will continue through the winter, and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.

The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, for which it takes a second lien as security, and receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its claim in services. These bonds are issued as each twenty mile section is finished, and after it has been examined by the United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class road, thoroughly supplied with depots, repair-shops, stations, and all the necessary rolling stock and other equipments.

The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of large revenue to the Company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests and abound in coal of the best quality.

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government and no more. Hon. E. D. Morgan and Hon. Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders, and deliver the bonds to the Company only as the work progresses, so that they always represent an actual and productive value.

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars, of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.

EARNINGS OF THE COMPANY.

At present, the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic, but this is already much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company can issue, if not another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and, as there will be no competition, it can always be done at profitable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is, in fact, a Government Work, built under the supervision of Government officers, and to a large extent with Government money, and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded, and certainly no other is based upon a larger or more valuable property. As the Company's are offered for the present at 90 CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, they are the cheapest security in the market, being more than 15 per cent. lower than U. S. Stocks. They pay

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

SIX PER CENT. IN GOLD,

or over NINE PER CENT. upon the investment. Subscriptions will be received in Portland by

FIRST NATIONAL BANK,

and in New York at the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau street, and by

CONTINENTAL NATIONAL BANK, No. 7 Nassau st.,
CLARK, DODGE & CO., Bankers, No. 51 Wall st.,
JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, No. 33 Wall st.,

and by the Company's advertised Agents throughout the United States. Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the bonds will be sent free of charge by return express.

A NEW PAMPHLET AND MAP, showing the Progress of the Work, Resources for Construction, and Value of Bonds, may be obtained at the Company's Offices or of its advertised Agents, or will be sent free on application.

AGRICULTURAL REPORT.—We have received a copy of the "Report of the Acting Commissioner of Agriculture for the year 1867," from which we take the subjoined extracts as matters of general interest. After citing the gratifying fact that there is an increasing interest among the people in the advance of agricultural science, the report says:

"In nothing is the intellectual activity shown to be more manifestly beneficent to the agriculture of the present era, than in the improvement of agricultural implements. In 1847 the number of agricultural patents granted was but forty-three; in 1853 it had increased to three hundred and ninety; in 1864 to five hundred and sixty-three; in 1866 to six hundred and forty-two; while in 1866 the wonderful increase to one thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight was made: and during ten months of the present year, the patent office has issued no less than one thousand seven hundred and seventy-seven. Thus the number of agricultural inventions perfected yearly is now more than forty-fold greater than twenty years ago."

"The railroad interest has secured among other favors and benefits of the Government, grants of public land, amounting to 184,000,000 acres, in aid of lines extending in all directions, to the borders of civilization.

"The wool growing interest, involving a capital of hundreds of millions, and underlying the prosperity of American agriculture in a degree scarcely appreciated by farmers themselves, has been saved from threatened annihilation by the action of Congress in placing a duty upon the foreign article equivalent to the internal taxation paid by the wool-growers, though not until the commercial class, taking advantage of the tardy progress of the measure, had inflicted a heavy blow in the introduction of more woolen goods in a single year than were imported in three years of the late war. It is to be hoped that a premium will never again be given to a foreign production, either of wool or woollens, by imposing a heavier tax upon American than upon foreign wool-growers, and that the present moderate and harmonious adjustment, barely saving the two classes of producers from loss, and consumers from becoming the ultimate prey of foreign [illegible], may long be undisturbed, even by the threat of agitation for [illegible]."

In the table showing the areas in each State of improved land in farms, unimproved lands in farms, wild or waste acres not in farms, and average number of acres in each farm, we find Oregon put down for 896,414 acres in improved farm lands; 1,164,125 acres unimproved; 56,914,821 acres of wild or waste lands; and 5,806 farms, with an average of 355 acres in each. In average size of farms, Oregon ranks as the ninth. California has the largest average—466 acres; Massachusetts the [illegible] average 91 acres. New York has the largest number of farms—196,990; Nevada has the smallest number—91. The whole number of farms is 2,043,665. The general average is 199 acres to the farm.

Under the head of "statistics," the report has the following [illegible]:

In comparison with 1860 the table of numbers and values [illegible] exhibit a [illegible] of six per cent. in [illegible], with a [illegible] increase over the value of the previous year. The heaviest loss is shown in the South; the [illegible] in the West. Prices of horses have [illegible] less than values of other stock during the year.

[illegible] to be increasing more rapidly than other [illegible], in parts of the [illegible] of the [illegible] system.

[illegible] have very [illegible] declined in numbers since 1860, increasing from twenty-three to more than forty millions, and their wool from sixty to one hundred and [illegible] millions of pounds.

[illegible] has been an increase in swine since 1850, principally in the West.

The farm crops of the present season, with some exceptions, have been more abundant than those of last year, the wheat crop, for three years comparatively small, has been generally good, with a large acreage, and a moderate yield. Including the Southern and Pacific States, the returns, when fully complete, will probably show a [illegible] aggregate of more than 200,000,000 bushels.

[illegible] corn crop [illegible] a large yield, with an [illegible] there were serious local losses, principally in the [illegible] valley, which will tend to reduce the estimate. [illegible] is yielding better than last year and will probably produce an aggregate of more than two and a half [illegible] bales.

[illegible] ITEMS.—We clip the following items from [illegible], the 25th: There is a [illegible] on foot for the [illegible] of another lodge of [illegible] in this place. A petition for a charter, with the requisite number of signers, will be shortly forwarded......We regret to learn that Mr. Shea will discontinue carrying the mail between Portland and here after [illegible] week, the [illegible] being too many, risks, the ice being dangerously thin in spots and the compensation not sufficient......A farmer living on Fern prairie in this [illegible] declared a war of extermination against the [illegible], having killed three one afternoon lately. [illegible] in the evening his hounds treed a lynx, which was [illegible]......Mr. J. Brant of this town has manufactured a horse cutter which for combining lightness with [illegible] beauty with utility, surpasses anything of the kind we have ever seen on this coast. It is calculated that when fully ironed and in running order, its weight will not [illegible] forty pounds......We hear from reliable [illegible] that [illegible] to Vancouver, from Portland, as we predicted a few weeks since, though not [illegible] to be a prophet nor the son of one. [illegible] at last, sets all things even."...... The [illegible] of the Episcopal Church have [illegible] themselves into a society for the very laudable purpose of assisting by their labors in the maintenance of an Episcopal [illegible] here. Rev. Dr. McCarty, the venerable and [illegible] who has for so long a term performed the [illegible] functions of Post Chaplain and local Pastor here, has been placed on the retired list, and will [illegible] take his departure for the Atlantic States...... [illegible] man named Casey was discharged from the military service here on the ground of disability. He got in a row in town and was arrested and taken [illegible] Smith, when it appeared the man was partly [illegible], and had been discharged on that account. This man has served his country faithfully for 15 years, and it [illegible] to us ungrateful, to say the least, to throw him after his long service on the cold charities of the world in his present helpless condition. Aside from that, [illegible] city has no [illegible] to be burthened with the military's insane. Since the foregoing was in type it has been discovered that the unfortunate man has about $200 in currency deposited with a responsible party, which will be applied at the earliest opportunity in procuring him a passage to Boston, Mass., where it is said he has relatives [illegible].

THE WILLAMETTE OPEN.—The people of this city were almost startled [illegible] day and were altogether thrown into an agreeable condition by hearing the unwonted sound of the [illegible] steam whistle as she [illegible] the foot of Washington street, on the way to the P. T. Co.'s wharf. Men rushed down to the wharf in crowds as though a fire were a [illegible] of the most [illegible] character. The men on the steamer brought the welcome intelligence that the river is now open to steam [illegible] from this city to [illegible] and [illegible] further up. The Alert, [illegible] made an attack upon the ice gorge between the falls and the lower warehouse, and [illegible] channel to the upper warehouse. It was [illegible] the broken ice which came over the falls had accumulated in the sluggish water below, to the depth of not less than twenty or twenty-five feet. It was broken up fine and was little more than slush ice. When the [illegible] ran into it with her improvised ice breaker, [illegible] of it [illegible] from below the water line, and raising under the boat, would lift her almost out of the water. Once or twice while in the [illegible] made by the boat, the hands had to cut her out of the jam thus produced. [illegible] a channel to the upper warehouse, the Alert came down without detention, arriving at two o'clock P. M. Her waves broke up vast areas of ice on either side, which is floating down the channel. Of course, in a short time, the floating mass stopped opposite [illegible] being open only a [illegible] distance below the P. T. Co.'s wharf; but it will probably not prevent the [illegible] of a steamer through it. The Alert will start from her wharf this morning at the usual hour, and upon her arrival at Oregon City, the Active will be [illegible] for Albany. The Fannie Patton started up yesterday morning, and hereafter, if another [illegible] does not occur, the steamers will [illegible] as per [illegible] the river closed.

[illegible] We learn that Marshal Jacobi has determined to put a stop if possible to the indiscriminate snow-balling attacks by boys upon street passengers. On Saturday [illegible] and children being about as often victims as anybody else. A legitimate indulgence in the sport of snow-balling, where both or all parties are willing participants, is well enough; but when ladies or gentlemen are passing along the street, not molesting anybody or manifesting any desire to mix in the rude sports of the street, they should be exempt from attack or danger of being hit by missiles aimed at combatants. These attacks upon persons driving teams are often dangerous. Last year, two or three runaways resulted from them, and several persons were injured or placed in jeopardy of life. The [illegible] that will confer a public favor by putting a stop to that sort of sport.

A SCHOOL MASTER WANTED.—It is pretty evident that a schoolmaster is needed in New York city. A late number of the Evening Dispatch contains the following [illegible] as to the geography of the Pacific coast: "Will you inform a number of your readers how far the Frazer river is within Russian America; also, where is the mouth of the river?" The editor, in the usual style of New York editors when they talk of something they know nothing about, informs his "many readers," that "[illegible] river is not delineated upon our maps," [illegible] in British Columbia or Vancouver's Island, and is, we think, a tributary of the Columbia river." The Dispatch man is evidently one of that class who never got more than "three month's schoolin'"—and boast that they got "eddication" enough to do 'em.

FROM ASTORIA.—Mr. W. Sweeney, who arrived from Astoria on Saturday, reports that it is probable the Ranger towed the brig Brewster down to Astoria, on Saturday, as preparations for that purpose were in progress when he left Rainer. The bark Alma, for Portland, had been some days in the river, and had been aground at Clatsop Beach. She had, however, got off, and had discharged cargo at Astoria. Several of the isolated villages along the banks of the Columbia had begun to realize a scarcity of flour, the usual sources of supply by river transportation being cut off.

SNOW AND STORMS.—Snow fell during Friday night to the depth of about two inches—the deepest of the [illegible]. During Saturday, the weather was above the freezing point, and the snow was decidedly "slushy." [illegible] during that day and Sunday, the sleighing on the [illegible] was very fine, and [illegible], attached to all sorts of sleighs, cutters, and jumpers, were kept [illegible] in very lively style. Last evening the weather was colder, freezing, in fact, and the sleighing season is likely not to close just yet.

SENT TO JAIL FOR VAGRANCY.—Van Tassel, the Hungry Brother was before the Recorder on Saturday on a charge of being a vagrant, and though he denied the "soft impeachment," was sent to jail for five days. While in confinement he is not likely to suffer from hunger, but we have no doubt he will get awful thirsty.

EXPRESS AND MAILS TO THE DALLES.—Messrs. Cann and Blakeny, the express and mail carriers between this city and the Dalles, left here at six o'clock Monday, on their second return trip. They carried a considerable number of letters.

MEETING OF THE PORTLAND LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—There will be an annual meeting of the members of the Portland Library Association on Saturday, February 1st, 1868, at 7 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of receiving reports from the officers of the Association, and electing two Directors instead of Wm. Strong and D. Frederich, whose term expires at that time; and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented. Every member of the Association is requested to be present.

FAIR FOR THE ORPHANS.—The Sisters in charge of the Catholic school of this city, propose to hold a fair at Oro Fino Hall, on the 13th, 14th and 15th of February next, for the benefit of the orphans under their care and instruction.

Miscellaneous Items.

A Christian Convention is called to meet at Essex, Vermont, at which the leading denominations of the State are expected to be present.

Halifax papers state that great distress prevails among the fishermen of Halifax County, owing to the failure of the fisheries along the shore.

The co operative associations which started so vigorously in Toronto a couple of years ago have wound up business, and are pronounced failures.

The bank circulation of Augusta, Ga., which was about ten million dollars before the rebellion, has now fallen to about four hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

The Indiana Republican State Convention, to nominate State officers, Presidential Electors, and chose delegates to the National Convention, will be held in Indianoplis, February, 20th, 1868.

Murders in England are reported to be, in proportion to the whole population, one in every 575,000; in Holland, one in 163,000; in the North German Bund, one in 100,000; in Austria, one in 77,000; in Spain, one in 4,000, and in the Papal States, one in 750.

The low stage of the Missouri river has been turned to good account. The people turn out and dig the bottom of the river for valuables lost by the wreck of steamboats. In one locality large amounts of canned meats, fruits and oysters, as well as many bottles of wine, have been found.

A Cincinnati paper says that a ring of eminent politicians getting wind of the fact that Churchill, of New York, had gone over to the impeachers, purchased $2,000,000 of gold in anticipation of a rise. Since the presentation of the report gold has gone down from 140 to 137, leaving the speculators somewhat short.

The London Spectator, in referring to the proposition of one of our leading American politicians, that in the payment of the debt a piece of paper with the United States stamp on it is necessarily good money, asks him if, in case he made a contract for cheese, he would be satisfied if he were supplied with milk in its stead?

Attorney-General Stanberry has had under consideration for sometime the question whether Government holds possession of Harper's Ferry in fee simple, or merely in trust for the specific use of an armory, and no other. He says, in an official communication, that the trust, or use, declared in favor of the United States, is not confined to any specific purpose or object.

All over New England complete stagnation prevails in all kinds of manufacturing industry. In New Haven more men are out of employment than at any time in the last ten years. Manufacturers are reducing or have reduced their forces, and it is a difficult matter for a mechanic or a workman to obtain employment of any kind. Several of the largest factories in Rhode Island are now running upon three-quarters time, and some have stopped entirely. In Maine, the corporations of Biddeford have cut down the wages. The Cocheco Manufacturing Company at Dover have reduced the pay of the operatives ten per cent. The woollen mill in Littleton has struck off fifteen per cent. from wages of laborers. In Enfield the woollen mills are running upon three quarters time.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF IDAHO—BOISE CITY, I. T.—Organized March 11th, 1867, (with circulation) under Act of Cong., approved June 3d, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000. Paid up capital $100,000. B. M. DuRell, Presid at. C. W. Moore, Cashier. Collections of Notes and Accounts on the principal places of Idaho Territory promptly attended to. Exchange for Coin or Currency on this Bank can be purchased of Ladd & Tilton, Portland, Oregon.

SHATTERED CONSTITUTIONS RESTORED by HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

MARTIN LUTHER once thought he saw the devil in his chamber, and threw an inkstand at his head. Had they had in those days AYER'S PILLS to exorcise all the devils that come from a disordered stomach, his laughable fright would not have become a matter of history.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU gives health and vigor to the frame and bloom to the pallid cheek. Debility is accompanied by many alarming symptoms, and if no treatment is submitted to, consumption, insanity, or epileptic fits ensue.

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS should be in the possession of everybody in the mining region. As a preventive of various dangerous diseases to which the gold seeker is liable, it has no superior. While it is quite palatable even as a beverage, it is speedy and powerful in its effects upon the system. In all cases of diarrhea, dysentery and the prevailing fevers consequent upon exposure, the Bitters will be found invaluable as a corrective. No man should enter upon the exposed camp life of a miner without being provided with Hostetter's preventive of stomach disease, nor should any of those who are now engaged in the occupation, fail to have recourse to the Bitters.—Sold by all druggists and dealers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU and IMPROVED ROSE WASH cures secret and delicate disorders in all their stages, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience and no exposure. It is pleasant in taste and odor, immediate in its action and free from all injurious properties.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU

Is a certain cure for diseases of the BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, DROPSY, ORGANIC WEAKNESS, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, GENERAL DEBILITY, and all diseases of the URINARY ORGANS,

whether existing in MALE OR FEMALE,

from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a diuretic. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the HEALTH AND HAPPINESS, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU,

Established upwards of 18 years, prepared by

DR. C. W. COOL,

DENTIST.

THOSE WHO DESIRE FIRST-CLASS DENTAL SERVICES might do well to give him a call. He is making a NEW AND IMPROVED VULCANITE PLATE. The nature of his improvement consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold; it makes the plate twice as strong and one-third times thinner than the common vulcanite plate. It also prevents the acids of the mouth from roughing the plate, and from turning it black, which is a common occurrence. One half of the common vulcanite plates turn black after being in use a short time, particularly where tobacco is used for smoking. His new style of plate admits of a very fine finish on the concave or palate surface. His office is the only place where such work can be had. The improvement is his own invention, for which he has received, December 3d, 1867, a patent from the United States Patent Office. He has been making this style of work for the last two and a half years, and has specimens of the work which can be seen at his office. This work has given satisfaction in every case.

OFFICE—temporarily at the private parlor of the New Columbian Hotel. dec31-3ptf.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is pleasant in taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and immediate in its action.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.

THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL COMPLAINTS!

At this period there are but few of the human race unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer; but while some extol it as a liniment, they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally, while others use it internally with great success, but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally. We therefore wish to say to all that it is equally successful whether used internally or externally, and it stands alone, unrivalled by all the great catalogue of Family Medicines, and its sale is universal and immense. The demand for it from India and other foreign countries is equal to the demand at home, and it has become known in these far-off places by its merits.

TAKE NO MORE UNPLEASANT AND UNSAFE REMEDIES for unpleasant and dangerous diseases. Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH.

TEETH EXTRACTED

By Dr. Richardson's Apparatus, Lately Improved by Dr. Koehler, with Ether Spray.

WILLIAM KOEHLER,

DENTIST.

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE—Southwest corner Front and Yamhill Streets, opposite E. J. Northrup & Co.'s Hardware Store.

Extracting Teeth by Dr. Richardson's apparatus, with Ether Spray, is local in its application, the tooth and surrounding parts only becoming insensible to pain. Those suffering from bad teeth can now have them removed free from pain and without the effects of inhaling chloroform, ether or nitrous oxyde (laughing gas.)

N. B.—To strangers I would say, that a constantly increasing Dental Practice for the last five years in this city, will be a sufficient guarantee for them to receive a First-Class and Finished Piece of Work. Numerous testimonials to the same can be given at the office.

THE FOLLOWING ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED:—DIVIDENDS ANNUALLY. ALL POLICIES NON-FORFEITABLE, AFTER ONE PAYMENT. LOANS MADE ON POLICIES. CREDIT GIVEN FOR PART OF THE PREMIUM IF DESIRED. EXPENSES LESS THAN ANY CASH COMPANY. POLICIES INCONTESTIBLE. PROMPT PAYMENT OF LOSSES.

Important New Feature in Dividends and Modes of Insurance:

The following are examples of the operations of the last dividend:

POLICIES ISSUED IN 1862—ONLY FOUR YEARS AGO.

Age.	Amount insured.	Premium paid.	Added to policy.	Total amount.
40	$10,000	$1,280	$3,572	$13,572
35	8,000	1,092	2,848	10,848
30	7,500	706	2,708	10,208
25	7,000	571	2,505	9,505

This is an entirely new plan, originating with this Company, and gives insurers the largest return ever made by any company in the same period. Persons contemplating taking out policies of Life Insurance would do well to investigate the different Companies represented in Oregon.

All information in regard to the working of this Company will be cheerfully given by

G. VENARD,

CHARTRES COFFEE!

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER, NOS. 825 AND 827 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts. The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!

A Pure and Powerful Tonic,

Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water; invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels; Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless [illegible], as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re[illegible] and re[illegible] them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

HAYING AND HARVESTING TOOLS,
For sale by H. W. CORBETT & CO.

Translation from Schiller.

Into my heart a silent look
 Flashed from thy careless eyes,
And what before was shadow, took
 The light of summer skies.
The first born love was in that look—
 The Venus from out the deep
Of those inspired eyes

My life, like some lone solemn spot,
 A spirit passes o'er,
Grew instinct with a glory not
 In Heaven or earth before,
Sweet trouble stirred the haunted spot
 And shook the leaves of every thought
Thy presence wandered o'er

My being yearned and crept to thine,
 As if times of yore
Thy soul had been a part of mine
 Which claimed it back once more—
Thy very self, no longer mine,
 But merged in that delicious life
Which made us one of yore.

There bloomed beside thee forms as fair—
 There murmured tones as sweet,
But round thee breathed the enchanted air
 'Twas life and death to meet—
And henceforth thou alone art fair,
 And though the stars had sung for joy,
They whisper only sweet.—Bulwer.

Grant's Letter to Johnson.

The letter of General Grant to the President, [illegible] the removal of Stanton and Sheridan, was widely read yesterday. A Wash[illegible] says it was listened to by Con[illegible] with marked interest and attention. "The [illegible] who have been most emphatic in praise of General Grant as the future candidate for the Chief Magistracy of the nation, accept his letter to the President as a more open and reliable expression of the General's opinion than they have [illegible] able to obtain." The letter is bold and unequivocal, and is an honest protest against the proposal of the President to assail the Tenure of Office act in removing the Secretary of War. "It was," he says, "but a short time since that the United States Senate was in [illegible] and why not then have asked for Stanton's removal, if it was decided? It certainly was the intention of the legislative branch of the Government to place a Cabinet Minister beyond the power of Executive removal, and it is pretty well [illegible] that so far as Cabinet Ministers are [illegible] by the Tenure of Office bill it was [illegible] to protect the Secretary of War, [illegible] entry felt great confidence in. The meaning of the law may be explained away by an astute lawyer, but common sense and [illegible] loyal [illegible] will give to it the effect [illegible] by its framers."

The predominant element in General Grant's character is [illegible] to law. He can tolerate no [illegible] or dishonest evasions from any quarter [illegible] not to rebuke the President to his face for his evasion of the intention of the [illegible] was [illegible] in question.

After [illegible] letter the Copperheads will [illegible] they have less stock in General [illegible]—at least they will perceive that he has taken precious little stock in [illegible] party. He gives a most excellent definition [illegible] of the expression "loyal people of the [illegible]," "I mean those," he says, "who [illegible] the Government during the great rebellion [illegible] the public who sustained it throughout its trials." With that party the General acts; to that [illegible] he belongs, and by its votes he will be elevated to the highest office in the gift of the [illegible] Post, Dec. 18th.

[illegible] but their kindling eyes and [illegible] betrayed the deep interest [illegible] what was going on. Others [illegible] in the [illegible] as rigor[illegible]mental or[illegible] stated in their very man[illegible] and when [illegible] the assembly, their thoughts [illegible] in language terse and well [illegible] colored members present had [illegible] and [illegible] attempt to give the [illegible] of their views otherwise [illegible] I must add, in all candor, [illegible] they did say anything it was generally [illegible] in expression, perhaps, but [illegible] the ideas intended. HIRAM SMITH'S Ophthalmic Panacea!

IN BRINGING THE ABOVE-NAMED NEW REMEDY to the notice of the Public, the Proprietor begs to state a few facts in relation to it, as follows:

It originated in Prussia, where the science of Medicine is so thoroughly taught and practised, but owing to the poverty of its discoverer its wonderful properties were not known beyond the limited circle of his acquaintance, in which, however, it proved itself absolutely infallible in eradicating disease from the eyes.

He immigrated to this country, bringing his discovery with him, but seems to have been indifferent to the propriety of giving it general and wide-spread circulation, and, as previously in his native country, seemed only desirous of using it among his friends and neighbors.

The present proprietor was one of those neighbors, and for many years was a witness to its wonderful efficacy, and, after ineffectual efforts to persuade the inventor to more widely disseminate the knowledge of its virtues, finally became himself the p[illegible] of the secret of its preparation.

And now, while he does not deny that he hopes and expects to make money by its sale, he must yet lay claim to a desire to benefit his fellows by presenting to them a remedy which does and will cure where medical science and all experience have failed.

He wishes it to be understood that it will cure all diseases of the eye, whether of recent or long standing; but its greatest power is exhibited when it is applied to old Chronic Cases of long standing, which have resisted every other attempt to cure them, and which have been given up as hopeless and past being cured or relieved.

He asks those afflicted in this way to give it a trial, and so confident is he of its success that he instructs all his agents TO REFUND THE MONEY IF IT FAILS TO CURE.

It has, within the past year, cured cases of GRANULATED LIDS, INFLAMMATION, &c., of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN and SEVENTEEN YEARS STANDING, evidence of which fact is furnished in the testimony of the following persons, living at and in the neighborhood of Harrisburg, Linn county:

ALEXANDER L. WALKER was cured of inflamed eyes, of nine years standing. Had been treated by eminent physicians during all that time without effect.

Mrs. MONTGOMERY, of Harrisburg, had inflamed eyes for over two years For one year they were so bad that she could not work. Was finally completely cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

E. B. MOORE, of the firm of Moore, Garst & Baber, of Harrisburg, had granulated lids for six years.

NATHANIEL BELL, of Clackamas county, had inflamed eyes—a bad case—for over fifteen years.

ROBERT KAMPEY and W. D. PORTER, of Harrisburg; JOHN M. HOLLOWAY, of Linn County; G. R. WARD, of Lane County, were all afflicted, more or less severely, with diseased eyes, and were cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

All the above named persons have given lengthy testimonials to the facts as above stated, which may be seen at the proprietor's office in Harrisburg.

Prepared by SMITH & RILEY, Harrisburg, Oregon.
For sale by SMITH & DAVIS, Portland, Oregon.

THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT!

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED, HAVING PURchased the "UNION BOOK & JOB PRINTING OFFICE," of T. F. McElroy, propose to issue a Weekly Newspaper at Olympia, W. T., on or about the 1st of December next, to be called THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT.

The paper will be devoted to the Agricultural, Mechanical, Commercial, Mineral, Moral and Political interests of the whole Territory.

In Politics we shall uphold and sustain the Union Principles of the Nation, at the same time reserving the right to be INDEPENDENT on all subjects, that we may be better able to discuss all matters in their true light, and give credit wherever it is due.

We trust our friends will circulate this prospectus generally, and assist us in getting a good list of Subscribers, Advertisements, or Job Work. We also invite correspondence from all sections of the Territory.

THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT will be issued every Saturday, at $3 per annum, in advance.

Hoping to receive a share of public favor, we unfurl our banner to the breeze.

CARD.

DR. BARLOW J. SMITH'S WATER CURE AND Phrenological Institute, 627 Sacramento Street, San Francisco. This is the only Regular Water Cure in Francisco, where all curable diseases are treated without drugs. Dr. Smith was the first to establish a water cure on this coast, based upon the theory and practice of the New York Hydropathic College.

We have a truly healthful boarding place for men, women and children, and our prices are moderate.

The Phrenological organs plainly indicate the diseases to which any person, male or female, is predisposed

Put this card in your hat, and when you come to San Francisco, call on Dr. Smith. He will give you consultation and a phrenological examination in regard to health. It will cost you nothing and may save you months and years of ill health and "bad luck."

Dr. Smith gives free lectures to gentlemen every Friday evening, on subjects pertaining to health, at his Phrenological Hall, 627 Sacramento Street.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1864, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin D[illegible] (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully [illegible]

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies are that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintance, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with eminent success. Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, injuries or unpalatable medicines of any kind. Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr. Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicines, may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with, a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

REDINGTON & CO'S ESSENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER

This valuable preparation, containing, in a highly concentrated form, all the properties of the Jamaica Ginger, has become one of the most popular domestic remedies for all diseases of the stomach and digestive organs.

As a tonic, it will be found invaluable to all persons recovering from debility, whether produced by fever or otherwise, for, while it imparts to the system all the glow and vigor that can be produced by wine or brandy, it is entirely free from the reactionary efforts that follow the use of spirits of any kind.

It is also an excellent remedy for females who suffer from difficult menstruation, giving almost immediate relief to the spasms that so frequently accompany that period.

It gives immediate relief to Nausea, caused by riding in a railroad car, or by sea-sickness, or other causes. It is also valuable as an external application for Gout, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc

DR. J. C. YOUNG,
Medical and Surgical INSTITUTE.

 CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE.

 CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.

 IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so g[illegible] importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invaluable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ!

I am aware that by dwelling upon so uninviting a subject as the [illegible] of manly vigor through the loss of the vital principle of life, the ignorant may asperse my motives; but the desire to point out to those who suffer, languish and decay, the true cause of their affliction, is too great an incentive to be forced into abeyance. How extended the terrible disease of Seminal Weakness is, no one but the practical specialist who devotes his time to its treatment can tell; but its presence can be detected by the most inexperienced by noting the following symptoms: Weakness of the back and limbs; languishing feelings, loss of muscular power; nervousness; irritability; cold feet or hands, accompanied by hot head; symptoms of consumption; short breath; flushings of the face; aversion to society; confusion of the mind; loss of memory; nightly emissions; colorless; slight discharges upon the least excitement; trembling; palpitation of the heart, irregular appetite; variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the various symptoms enumerated above, pause to consider. The present is the golden moment in which you may [illegible] health and happiness. You may feel strong now, but if you have ever practiced the vice of self-abuse even in the [illegible], you have the seeds of weakness in your system, and their undermining influence will, sooner or later, dash the fair edifice of your strength to the ground, leaving you a helpless, abject being. It is not a d[illegible] that [illegible] itself at once. Therein lies its greatest danger; for while the patient is being treated for some affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, or Digestive functions, he sinks into a general debility that soon adds him to the list of the victims of the terrible disorder, Seminal Weakness.

See in the best form and languishing steps the poor victim of the fascinating vice! Mark the [illegible] of the [illegible] active complaint in the hollow cheek and dull eye!

Drowsiness is one of the premonitory symptoms. At first it is easily shaken off, but it grows eventually into a great disinclination to pursue his regular business. The mind becomes apprehensive, and restless nights succeed days of depression.

It is the nature of the complaint to assume sudden changes that leave the poor victim but little hope of recovery. In a single instant it may wither your fond hopes and blast your honest aspirations.

Marriage is sought by a natural impulse as a hope of relief. This is an error of the first magnitude, for the system, unprepared for the exigencies of the occasion, suddenly fails, and he finds himself in a deplorable condition, from which there is but the slightest hope of recovery. Or if the marriage should result in offspring, they are puny, distorted, decrepid, and degenerate. This is applicable to both sexes, whether married or single, and to all times of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the symptoms of the terrible complaint, or if your acts have been such as to lead to them, but by instant application secure to yourself the only hope of health and happiness. The Doctor uses no mercury or other deleterious drugs—cures, when taken in time, always guaranteed, and full and proper vigor restored.

The afflicted are assured of every confidence.

PERSONS AFFLICTED WITH VENEREAL.

During the seventeen years since the establishment of the Institute, the number of cases of Venereal that have been treated, show a record unsurpassed by any hospital in the world, and the success that has invariably marked the course of treatment,

Without Mercury or other Deleterious Drugs,

Shows conclusively the use of them to be not only uncalled for, but actually dangerous, for it is a thoroughly established medical principle that these poisonous drugs, by entering the blood, ruin the constitution and destroy life.

The Doctor effects a cure in recent cases, in a few days, and finds no difficulty in curing those of long duration, without submitting the patient to such treatment as will draw upon him the slightest suspicion, or oblige him to neglect his business, whether in-doors or without. The diet need not be changed. Cures always guaranteed, or no pay required.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease, and requires medical or surgical assistance, the inquiry should be, "Where is there a physician competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society will recommend him to the confidence of the community?" The Doctor, understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and by calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous or designing. Therefore, families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one whom can feel and sympathise with and befriend them in trouble and in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed—consultation by letter or otherwise, free. Cures guaranteed in all weakness and trouble incidental to the sex Private apartments are provided, when desired, where can be had all the advantages of unremitted attention of the Doctor, and the most skillful and and faithful nurses.

To CORRESPONDENTS.—Persons, either male or female, residing in the interior, are often deterred from consulting the Doctor because they cannot spare the time, nor incur the expense of a visit to the city. To such he would say that a plain statement of the symptoms and information bearing upon the complaint, will enable him to prescribe for them so that they can be cured at home. None need have any false delicacy about writing, no matter what the nature of their complaint, as the communication will be seen by no one except the Doctor, and will be treated with the utmost confidence, and either be returned or destroyed.

Consultation Free.
